

Invite Curt to Speak

Through his work in founding Being Known, Curt Thompson, MD has uniquely merged academic and professional expertise in psychiatry with an engaging, dynamic public speaking and teaching talent. His ability to seamlessly integrate the complexities of neuroscience with the finer disciplines of Christian spirituality grants his audience a lasting, transformative experience. Listeners consistently come away with a refreshing perspective on their life story, deeper insight into the human mind, and a greater appreciation for the role God plays in renewal and growth.

Relying on the timeless wisdom offered by Scripture, Curt's presentations lend themselves well to groups that seek an opportunity to engage in honest discussion about the impact of Being Known—by God and others—in faith and social communities, business, culture, the arts and beyond. Curt has spoken at churches, conferences, and retreats; to groups of 20-800. His work is endorsed by numerous prominent pastors, theologians, and mental health professionals.

Read Frequently Asked Questions about Curt speaking at your event.

Invite Curt to Speak using our online form.